

Environmental Justice is when all people have the same access to safe and healthy living conditions. Right now, the majority of people from the global south are suffering the negative environmental consequences caused by the environmentally abusive living standards of the global north, and injustice that we need alter.

Climate change and environmental damage are the consequences of human abusive life styles and production systems, and result directly in the suffering of vulnerable groups (women, the poor, migrants etc.). The causes and effects can only be remedied and reversed by us.

Environmental Migrants should have recognized rights alike to political refugees, which at present they do not have. They are people who have to leave their home due to environmental disasters, which are more and more caused by human action. These include amongst others: food and water shortage due to climate change and/or abusive farming.

Join us in the fight against injustice and get involved in promoting: Environmental Justice, Rights of Nature, Global Citizenship, Migrant and Refugee Rights, Stop Climate Change, Right to drinking water, One world for all, Intergenerational justice.

WHO ARE WE?

The project is implemented by 13 organizations in 10 different EU Countries, with the support of 12 additional associations in European and non-European Countries. In detail:

Lead partner:  CENTRO
INFORMAZIONE E
EDUCAZIONE ALLO
SVILUPPO ONLUS

Project partner:

Associação de Professores de Sintra

Associate partners:

Africa Sand Dam Foundation (Kenya) - Associação KUUWUKA JDA Juventude Desenvolvimento e Advocacia Ambiental (Mozambique) - Brunel University (Uk) - Brussels University (Belgium) - Thessaloniki University (Greece) - Cyril University of Skopije (REP MK) - Dublin Institute of Technology (Ireland) - Oikos East Africa (Tanzania) - Rakhine Coastal Region Conservation Association RCA (Myanmar) - Regional Environmental Center (Hungary) - University of Cluj (Romania) - Vilnius Gediminas Technical University (Lithuania)

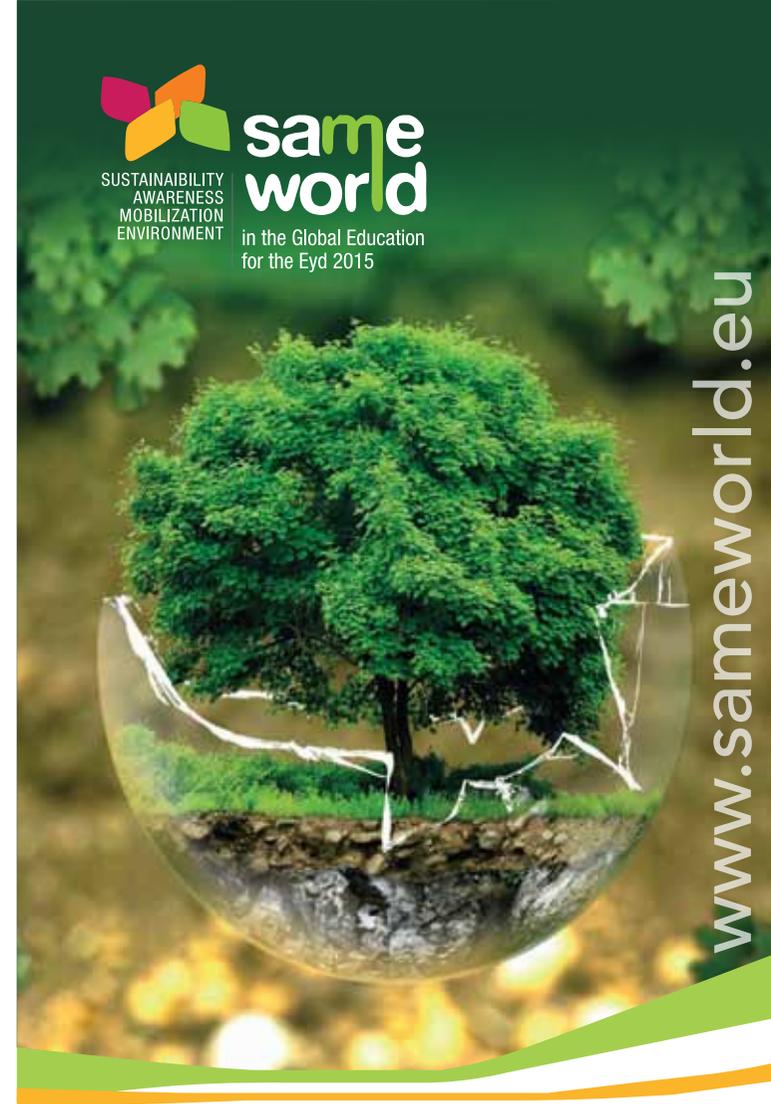

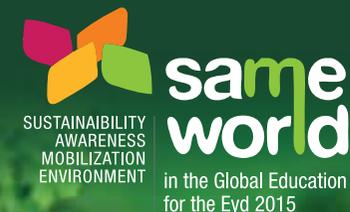

Contact:

comunicazione@cies.it

info@sameworld.eu

Project co-funded with support from the European Commission. The project and communications reflect the views only of the authors, and the Commission cannot be held responsible for any use which may be made of the information contained therein. DCI-NSA-ED 2014/338-120

ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE
FOR A SAME
WORLD for all

 2015 European Year for Development

our world
our dignity
our future

#sameworld

Why is the SAME World project interesting for you?

Some people – right now – are enjoying all the benefits of Development: energy, clean water, and high living and consumption standards. But who's paying the price?

Is climate change a reality, something that questions our lifestyle and Economic system, or should we continue with "business as usual"?

Every day we can see images of desperate people abandoning their land, or made refugees by "natural" disasters: some media evoke images of "invasion" and none seem to question why increasing parts of the planet have suddenly become dangerous or uninhabitable.

Climate Change, Environmental Justice, Rights of Nature, Refugee and Migrant Rights... these are connected issues relevant to us all, but they are often presented in isolation.

Maybe it's time to make connections among these phenomena that are under our eyes, and take action!

The SAME world project offers engaging activities and tools for children and adults, to find out more about these serious issues and how to engage in simple actions that will change our environment into a 'SAME world for all people'.

OUR MISSION

To raise EU citizenships' awareness about the relationship between Global South and Global North, with a focus on Environmental Justice and on sustainable ways of living, in line with the European Year of Development 2015 (#EYD2015).

To encourage students and teachers critical understanding and active citizenship practices related to climate change and environmental migrations, taking into account innovative, technological and experiential approaches.

ENGAGING ACTIVITIES FOR EVERYONE

Get involved and find out about our many different activities organized in 10 EU countries over 3 years (2015 to 2017):

- Three international seminars (Milan, Tartu, Sintra)
- Three international round tables
- Creation of a free digital tool kit for teachers and schools
- Implementation of an Online Multifunctional and Multilanguage Platform (MMP)
- A blended course for teachers, educators and parents on the issues of Environmental Justice and Environmental Migrants
- Workshops with students at primary and secondary schools
- Outdoor activities with students and families
- Creation of a theatre play
- Online role-playing games
- Online Observatory against Environmental Injustice
- European contest about environmental education best practices in EU school curricula
- Collection of best practices in the Global South
- Viral campaign about Environmental Justice
- Events at Expo 2015 in Milan

...and many more initiatives at local level across the EU!